

MANSFIELD TO RUN FOR BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS

Arthur J. Mansfield, of 3 Valley rd., announced his candidacy for the Board of Public Works yesterday. After consenting to run for this office, he took out nomination papers for election to this board.

Mr. Mansfield is well known in Arlington as the publisher of the Arlington News, which he has managed since the spring of 1932. Since coming to Arlington, he has been active in town and civic affairs.

For over thirty years Mr. Mansfield has been actively engaged in the printing and publishing business, having been the owner of the Mansfield Printing Co. in Boston, for a period of twenty-five years and later sold his interest in this concern to enter the newspaper field as manager and treasurer of the Melrose Free Press, subsequently taking over the management of the Arlington News.

While conducting the Mansfield Printing Co. in Boston, Mr. Mansfield became interested in educational work in the Boston Schools and served as instructor of printing, shortly thereafter becoming the Division Head of the Boston Trade School, Printing Department.

Hospital And Church Benefit From Will Of Late Horatio Phinney

Bequests of $5,000 to the Symmes Hospital and $2,500 to the First Parish Unitarian church were included in the will of the late Horatio A. Phinney which was filed in the Middlesex probate court this week.

Mr. Phinney left $25,000 outright to his widow and trust funds for her and other relatives. An employee, Joseph Mazotta of Boston was left $1,000.

An automobile owned by Earl Maher, of Marshfield, which was stolen in Cambridge Tuesday night was abandoned at the Heights Reservoir early Wednesday morning. The car, stripped of some extras, was found by Police officers Roche and MacLean of the local police.

New Streets To Be Constructed

During a lengthy meeting which lasted until after one o'clock Wednesday morning, the joint board of selectmen and public works held hearings on the proposed acceptance and construction of several streets. After hearing proponents and opponents the officials voted to recommend to the annual town meeting the laying out and construction of the following streets:

Andrew street, Bradley road, Brookdale road, Davis road, Park avenue extension, Wachusett avenue, Quincy street, Winchester road, and Waverly street. Because the majority of those at the hearing was opposed, the joint-board voted not to recommend the construction of Columbia road, from Falmouth road west to Bradley road.

REED—SODERQUIST

A beautiful wedding was solemnized Saturday evening in the Park Avenue Congregational Church at the Heights when Miss Thelma Soderquist became the bride of Haskell Reed of Lexington. The Rev. Clifford O. Simpson performed the ceremony and a reception followed at the old Colonial Reed Homestead. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Edwin Soderquist of Arlington Heights. Mr. Reed is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Reed, and is well known in both Arlington and Lexington.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of white chiffon velvet with silk tulle. The long train was appliqued with bow-knots of velvet. Her veil was of matching tulle and kept in place with Juliet cap of pearls and she wore a wrist bouquet of orchids and lilies of the Valley. Miss Meriam Stevens was maid of honor and carried a large bunch of violets. Marjorie Reed, youngest sister of the groom, made a pretty picture as flower girl and carried an old fashioned bouquet. Both attendants wore all white with tulle.

Mr. Reed had his brother, Lawrence Reed for his best man and the ushers were Joseph Busa, Harvey Robinson, Stanley Wharton and Jack Hamm.

The reception was gay with laughter of many of the young people of Arlington, as well as guests from out of town. The dining room was beautiful with Spring flowers. Here five young ladies, friends of the couple served during the evening.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Northern New Hampshire where they are enjoying winter sports the young people will live in Lexington. Mr. Reed attended New Hampshire School in New Hampshire. Mr. Reed and Mrs. Reed were members of Tufts Class '37.

COMMISSION SUGGESTS 2 PER CENT SALES TAX TO HELP REAL ESTATE

Challenging its critics to produce an alternative plan for providing tax relief for real estate, the Recess Commission on Taxation and Public Expenditures filed a lengthy report this week with the Governor and Legislature, recommending a two percent sales tax to pay $45,000,000 of the public welfare bill of the state. The sales tax would cut Arlington's tax rate, the commission contends.

The Commission, the report declares, holds to the conviction that slashing public expenditures is the best economy move and promises definite recommendations in this direction in subsequent reports. "But," the report says, "economy by this means will not be accomplished in substantial measure and quickly enough to give the immediate real estate taxation relief necessary for the spending habits of generations will not be reversed overnight and new revenues are inescapable to lift the tax burden immediately."

The report outlines the proposed tax, to be known as an "emergency relief tax" as follows:

1. A 2 percent tax on retail sales of tangible personal property within the State with no exceptions.
2. A 2 percent tax on the resale value of tangible personal property used within the State but purchased elsewhere, both estimated by the Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation to yield $45,000,000 and both to be used solely for welfare costs, and thus to reduce the tax rate on real estate.
3. The creation of a Public Relief Fund under the control of the State from which transfers may not be made for other purposes.
4. Reimbursement of cities and towns by the State for all or part of their public welfare costs, within the limits of revenue from this source, provided:

- (a) Cities and towns do not spend for other than relief purposes more than the average expenditures for these purposes for the past five years, and further provided that
- (b) Cities and towns maintain public relief administrative standards set forth above.
5. A penalty provision is included to keep from full participation in the proposed Relief Fund those communities which do not meet the standards set forth above.

6. Provision is made to prevent the tax from rising above 2 percent but permitting its reduction in units of 1-4 of one percent as the relief burden decreases.

According to the report, the tax rate reduction which would have been effected in Arlington if the Commission's report tax recommendation had been in operation last year would have been $4.67.

The Commission in presenting its report stated in part: "A merely negative opposition to this recommendation or an opposition coupled with vaguely expressed alternatives, is not constructive. For almost a decade we have drifted from year to year looking vainly for an improvement in pursuing fiscal mirages and devising stop-gaps of questionable merit. To continue in that way is unsafe from a financial point of view and a reflection upon our competence to govern ourselves. We cannot postpone the adoption of a sound policy for the relief of the tax burden on real estate. Confiscation is not near at hand to permit further delay."

Welcome Alternative
"To those who object to the plan in its entirety, we offer this challenge."

Carl Evarberg, chairman of the membership committee of the local church held a preliminary meeting of his team captains at his home Monday evening. Plans were outlined for an enthusiastic drive to win the contest for the Arlington church. A captain was appointed for each precinct. They are:

The slogan "Beat Lexington" was adopted at a pre-contest meeting held Tuesday evening and plans were made to invite every man in Arlington not already connected with any other church to attend this class led by Rev. Grady D. Feagan as teacher and Malcolm Griffin as president.

Weir in charge of membership drive throughout the state will be present.

Former Mayor Irwin of Medford assisting the chief of staff will also give a talk on why veterans owe it to themselves and their families to join in some veterans' organizations.

Post Commander Lawrence Kiehl is urging all members of the Post and other units near Arlington to attend the meeting. Reports from State Headquarters indicate that hundreds of overseas veterans are joining the ranks of the V. F. W. during the intensive campaign.

The accomplishments of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, securing justifiable legislation to assist disabled veterans, the widows and orphans; the extensive relief work; the loyalty of the members in organization and community activities; the ever true devotion to the men who are still suffering from the affects of service in Federal and private hospitals make it an ideal organization for men who served overseas in wars and insurrections since 1899. Commander Kiehl feels.

Arlington Post officers may be seen any evening at 352 Mass. Avenue Post Hall.

The next regular meeting of Middlesex County Council V. F. W. will be held in Arlington the third Sunday in February with Arlington Post as host.

Better "El" Service Discussed at Session

At the invitation of the board of aldermen of the City of Chelsea, which passed a resolution recently calling a meeting of officials of communities served by the Boston Elevated, "for the purpose of obtaining better transportation facilities," members of the Arlington board of selectmen attended a conference in the Chelsea City Hall last evening. The matter of devising ways and means of public ownership of the Elevated was also discussed.

Miss Eloise Ordway and Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, both of Arlington, were ushers at the faculty recital at the Boston Conservatory of Music, recently when Madge Fairfax, member of the faculty at the Conservatory was soloist.

High School Play To Be Given Tomorrow Night

The Arlington High School presents "The Admirable Crichton" at the Robbins Memorial Town Hall Saturday night.

Miss Irene Allison, who was to play the lead, fell on the icy sidewalk last week and broke her leg. She will be unable to take part in the play. However, due to the unlimited talent in the play this year, the part will be played by Miss Jean Mark. Although Miss Mark is a newcomer, she has great talent.

The story is about an aristocratic family which is stranded on a desert island. Their butler, Crichton, becomes master of the situation, due to his resourcefulness in meeting the problems of existence. Just as he is about to marry the lord's daughter, the party is rescued. In London he resumes his position as the obedient butler.

This was considered as the best of Sir James M. Barrie's plays. Among his other famous works were "Peter Pan" and "The Little Minister."

Mrs. Wallace L. Benjamin, of 35 Norfolk road, is spending the month in Miami where she is staying at the Barbizon Hotel with Miss Mary Lawrence of the Fensgate Hotel, Boston.

C. of C. to Meet Next Tuesday

Kenneth V. Minihan, supervisor of research in the State Unemployment Compensation Commission, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce in Wyman's Tavern next Tuesday evening. A large attendance is expected since the problem of unemployment compensation is of great interest to both employers and employees at the present time.

Dinner will be served at 6.45 o'clock, previous to the meeting.

Dr. Harold D. Chope, director of Public Health, Newton, Mass., spoke on "Modern Community Health Planning" at the annual meeting of the Southern Middlesex Health Association Tuesday in the Arlington Library Hall. Members and friends were present. John O. Matthews was elected assistant treasurer.

MEMBER OF MASSACHUSETTS PRESS ASSOCIATION

WE MUST NOT FAIL

With the goal of $32,000 not yet reached, the 1938 appeal for the Arlington Community Chest has been extended over the period originally set. Unfortunately, this is made necessary because many of our people have failed to appreciate the full significance of the Arlington Community Chest appeal.

While in many cases the response to the appeal for contributions has been generous, there are altogether too many of our people who have not given in accordance with their means.

This year, as never before, Arlington people are united in an appeal for the support of most worthy organizations serving the people the year round. This one appeal will eliminate separate drives for each organization. Considering this fact, whereas a dollar or two may be sufficient to support any one of these organizations, these amounts are insufficient to support the work of all eight agencies represented in the Arlington Community Chest.

The amounts asked to carry on the work of these agencies have been cut down to the limit and it would be unfortunate if Arlington failed to reach its goal of $32,000 in this second appeal.

Every good citizen recognizes his responsibility in taking care of the sick and needy of this community and is well aware of the need of character building programs for boys and girls. We must not fail in this endeavor to support the work of these worthwhile agencies and contributions will justify the faith of many workers who have for the past week or more put their time and effort into this appeal to assure ultimate victory.

If you have not already contributed, or if you can possibly increase the contribution already made, you are urged to do so. Checks, made out to the Arlington Community Chest, Inc., may be mailed direct to the permanent headquarters at 655 Massachusetts avenue.

THE TAXES WITHOUT A FRIEND

The greatest need of the time is actual cooperation by government with industry, which is the sole source of productive employment, investment, spending power and taxation. The first step Congress should take, if it is honestly interested in real national recovery, is to revise those two "taxes without a friend" which have done so much to kill business and investment—the undistributed profits tax and the capital gains tax.

Neither of these taxes is an important revenue producer. They actually tend to reduce tax revenues, because of their depressive effect on industrial activity. There is a remarkable unanimity of opinion among informed persons as to their dangers. Business men, large and small, are solidly opposed to them. Outstanding economists can find nothing to say in their favor. The nation's principal newspapers, of all political affiliations, are requesting that they be drastically changed. And a large number of public officials, of both parties, have gone on record in favor of revision or outright repeal.

To encourage a revival of business activity that will block the growing "recession," assuage the fears of industry and investors as to political and tax persecution.

Seeks Another Term On School Committee

M. Norcross Stratton, member of the school committee, announced this week his intention to run for reelection at the annual town election in March.

Mr. Stratton is well-known on the school committee of which he served as chairman. He is assistant director of the division of vocational education in the State Department of Education.

IN HIGH SCHOOL MEET

Arlington High School will be among the leading title chasers in the eleventh annual New England Interscholastic Track Meet, the first major indoor competition of the winter season, which will be held in the Boston Garden, Saturday afternoon. Last year the meet attracted 472 competitors from thirty-seven schools and approximately that number is expected this year.

The NEWS OBSERVES

Arlington this year has no President's Birthday Ball. But, you can take in Medford's which will be held Saturday evening in the Armory. In addition to dancing and entertainment, bridge and whist may be enjoyed in the Company room of the Armory. Over 100 prizes will be awarded. Charles T. Daly, chairman of the general committee, guarantees Arlington people a real good time. Proceeds go to the infantile paralysis fund.

The Massachusetts Press association mourns the loss of Harris Mason Dolbeare, publisher of the Wakefield Daily Item, whose funeral was held Monday. The late Mr. Dolbeare was outstanding as a family man, a business man and a public-spirited citizen. His intense patriotism manifested itself in his deep interest in worthwhile civic projects.

A state-wide campaign against pneumonia, sponsored by the State Department of Public Health, is being carried into every municipality in the Commonwealth. Citizens of Arlington should take an active interest in this campaign. There were 33 cases of lobar pneumonia reported in town during 1937. This number can and should be reduced.

Citizens of Arlington can aid in wiping out this menace by calling their family physician if there is the slightest suspicion of pneumonia. The sooner the doctor is called and can start serum treatment, the better the chance for recovery from this ruthless disease.

The Boston Y. M. C. A. this week announced a new camping plan to accommodate thousands of Boston boys and girls whose parents cannot afford the expense of ordinary camp facilities. This is made possible by the purchase of the 100-acre Waltham estate of Dr. Richard C. Cabot which will be converted into a day camp.

State Treasurer Hurley this week received a $5,000,000 check from the Treasury Department at Washington. This represents the first funds to be received by the State for payment of unemployment compensation benefits starting February 1.

A new nickel will be out soon, the first in 25 years. The familiar buffalo nickel is to be succeeded by one honoring Thomas Jefferson third President of the United States. On one side of the new coin will be a likeness of Jefferson on the other his Monticello home.

Joseph P. Kennedy, our new ambassador to England was the principal speaker at the opening of the Greater Boston Community Fund drive in Boston Monday evening but little Johnny Riley of the Roxbury Boys' Club nearly stole the show. Although only 9 years old and obliged to stand on a chair to be seen, the boy "sold" the Boys' club idea to his audience of 6000 people.

COOPER'S TAVERN

Many of us who remember Cooper's Tavern when it stood on the corner of Massachusetts Avenue and Medford Street, a shabby structure, hideously painted in blue and mustard yellow, will not recognize it in the sketch above which has endeavored to show the original beauty of the building.

Cooper's Tavern was erected in 1826 by Jonas Pierce as a private dwelling. Afterwards it was leased by Mr. Pierce's children to a man named Gordon and for a time was known as Gordon's Hotel. Later it was sold to Phillip Whittemore and given the name Whittemore's Hotel. The next owner changed the name to Arlington House and in 1873 had large signs, "Cooper's Tavern—1775" painted on both sides of the house.

These facts completely disprove the Revolutionary glamor which was attributed to the building. The Tavern was supposed to have been the scene of the murders of James Wyman and Jason Winship on April 19, 1775. This was based on the following Cambridge records dated May 19, 1775: "We, Benjamin Cooper and Rachel Cooper, both of Cambridge, aforesaid, of lawful age, testify and say that in the afternoon of the 19th day of April last, the King's regular troops, under the command of General Gage, upon their return from blood and slaughter which they had made at Lexington and Concord, fired more than a hundred bullets into the house where we dwell, through doors, windows, etc., then a number of them entered the house, where we and two aged gentlemen were all unarmed. We escaped for our lives into the cellar; the two aged gentlemen were immediately most barbarously and inhumanly murdered by them, being stabbed through in many places, their heads mauled, skulls broke, and their brains out on the floor and walls of the house; and further saith not."

Now if the Tavern we know was not even in existence until fifty-one years after this stirring episode, the original Cooper's Tavern must in some way have been demolished and replaced in 1826 by another building. Therefore we must content ourselves with the fact the site of the Tavern we remember can be rightfully connected with the Revolutionary tale.

Adult Education Class Hears Talk By Rep. Everberg

One of the most interesting and timely lectures given in the Adult Education classes was that presented by Hon. G. W. Everberg, State Representative from Woburn, last Monday evening at the senior high school.

In his informative talk on legislation of the House of Representatives, Mr. Everberg cited various bills which have been presented to the House through the right of free petition. One bill submitted actually suggested a ten dollar taxation of bachelors in addition to their regular taxes.

Another bill dealt pertinently enough, with the length of ladies' hair pins while still another demanded that all laundry checks be written in English.

The first law for automobiles ever to be passed was that which required the use of mudguards. Stanley Steamers were the early type of car to require a license, and that, a fireman's license.

Each bill, regardless of merit, must go through each department to be considered. The cost in bill production per year is between eighty and one hundred thousand dollars.

Mr. Everberg informed the group that this year's budget would probably be higher than those of 1936 and 1937.

The largest item of expense is, alarmingly enough, in the Department of Mental Diseases which spent approximately thirteen millions of dollars last year.

In recognizing opposition to the sales tax which he, incidentally, will probably never actually sponsor, Representative Everberg asked "If we else could it be done without further burdening real estate owners?"

The Education Committee of the Woman's Club, is sponsoring these classes which present other valuable courses in addition to the Legislation and International Relations lectures. Classes are held every Monday and Thursday evenings.

Sleigh Ride Party Is Forced To Give Horses A "Lift" Up The Hills

Twenty-two members of the Senior Fellowship of St. John's Episcopal Church went on a sleighing party at the Woodmoreland Riding School in Lexington last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hamlett, the Fellowship's advisors, acted as chaperones, and with the help of Fred Pond and Eric Alexie, kept the party lively throughout the evening. The whistle broke, sand and bare spots were on the roads and the two horses had to be pushed up the hills, but this all added to make the evening enjoyable. After the ride, the gang came back to the clubhouse, located over the stables and toasted wienies and marshmallows before an open fire. This was followed by dancing and games.

The next meeting will be held Sunday evening, February 6 at the Church at eight o'clock. Miss Dorothy Hickie of Boston will speak on Mexico. A large gathering is expected.

Miss Marion Smith Host To The Varia Study Club

At the home of Miss Marion Smith, Waverley street, Monday evening, a regular meeting of the Varia Study club was held. The vice president, Miss Mildred Pritch, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. William Homer, Jr.

After a short business meeting, Mrs. Stanley Gove read a paper on "Marriage and Funeral Customs of Other Lands" and Miss Bernadine Brooks read one on "Holidays of the Nations". Both were excellent and thoroughly enjoyed by the members. Refreshments were served during the social hour.

The next meeting will be held February 14 at the home of Mrs. John Fuller, 337 Park avenue. The guest speaker will be Laurence E. Kiehl of the Massachusetts Department of Correction who will speak on "The Parole System".

The Arlington Fortnightly club will sponsor a public whist and bridge in Odd Fellows' hall, 661 Massachusetts avenue, Tuesday evening, February 1 at 8 o'clock. The committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Archie F. Bullock is planning an enjoyable evening.

Taxpayers' Head Compliments Town Meeting Members

In a letter to the NEWS, Charles M. Sawyer, president of the Arlington Taxpayers' Association, praises the action of the town meeting members in voting down an appropriation for a Constitution Sesquicentennial celebration here.

"I feel it is timely, after the Monday evening Town Meeting, to call the attention of the home owners and other taxpayers of Arlington to the very encouraging action of the Town Meeting members in voting down the attempt to appropriate $200.00 of hard earned tax money for an elaborate and entirely unnecessary ultra-celebration of Patriot's Day, April 19th."

"The few hundred dollars usually appropriated for this observance will probably be voted at the regular meetings in March and should, if properly spent, provide for as much of a celebration as a $25.00 tax rate on our present rather high property valuations will warrant."

"The people who are contributing the money, thru taxes, for carrying on the business of the town will, I am sure, greatly appreciate this action by a majority of the Town Meeting membership and will look forward hopefully to like action on unnecessary appropriations at our annual meeting, whether asked for by town officials or by other interested groups."

"It is encouraging to see that a majority of our Town Meeting members realize that taxes are taking altogether too large a part of our earnings and are willing to refuse unnecessary appropriations."

Woman's Club To Enjoy New Play By Mrs. Wilcox

The next regular meeting of the Arlington Woman's Club will be held on Thursday, Feb. 3, at 2 p.m. in Robbins Memorial Town Hall. The program will be Home Talent Day in charge of the Drama Committee. They will present for the first time on any stage Gladys Black Wilcox latest play "The Cheers of Yesterday". Director of the play will be Myrdred Foley Trempe.

The cast are as follows: Mrs. Harold Cahalan as Olivia Le Reece; Mrs. George W. Yale as Harriett Saunders; Mrs. John Winner as Sherry Welles; Mrs. W. G. Brooks as Mrs. Hogan; Mrs. Russell Hamlett as Patricia Wright; Mrs. G. C. Tewksbury as Myrtle; Miss Edith Winn as Miss Enfield; Mrs. Ralph Loud as Kingsford Welles; Walter Wilcox as the messenger.

Members may bring guests for the usual fee. Tickets of other Federated Clubs not honored at this meeting.

The Arlington Woman's Club met Jan. 20 with the President, Mrs. L. E. A. Smith in the chair. There was the usual business. As the meeting was in charge of the Education Committee, the Superintendent of Schools, J. S. Keating was a guest and spoke briefly. Music was furnished by the High School, with a brief introductory talk by Miss Ethelwyn Wardle. First the Girls' Glee Club, which received the highest rating in the Massachusetts and New England Music Festivals, sang two numbers, then there were piano selections by Hermine Hall, winner of the 1937 Club Scholarship, and then four original compositions were performed. These were all very interesting and showed the unusual training the High School gives in its Music Department.

Mrs. George L. Savage introduced the speaker of the afternoon—Professor F. Alexander Magoun, head of the Department of Human Relations at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who spoke on "The Art of Human Relations". Mr. Magoun spoke of what the different eras in the world's history have brought forth and said that in the 20th Century progress would be made in Human Relations. The close proximity in which we live makes it necessary for us to learn to get along together. Mr. Magoun said. His talk was one of the best the club has had for some time.

The Arlington Fortnightly club will sponsor a public whist and bridge in Odd Fellows' hall, 661 Massachusetts avenue, Tuesday evening, February 1 at 8 o'clock. The committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Archie F. Bullock is planning an enjoyable evening.

Sons Of Italy Lodge Marks Anniversary

Mr. Lacey has made several trips to Italy. The grand deputy was present. The committee in charge comprised: R. D. Guarente, P. T. Guarente, A. Caterino, S. DiDonato, and T. Vellone.

John L. Taylor was re-elected second vice-president. Walter T. Chamberlain, treasurer and Harold Stork, clerk were also re-elected. Mrs. Edith Stork and Arthur O. Yeames were elected new members to the board of trustees. The position of first vice-president will be filled later.

Armenian Citizens' Club Enjoys Varied Program And Talks

The program of the social meeting of the Arlington Armenian Citizens' Club held last Sunday at the Yale Lantern proved of great interest to nearly a hundred citizens present.

After a few words of greeting, the president, S. P. Basmajian, introduced George M. Kurzon, a lawyer who served in the General Court in 1925 and 1936. He gave a brief history of the state legislature and told how in the olden days it was the only body of men who could try for murder and grant divorces. This power is now in the hands of the court. He emphasized the advantages and opportunities available in this country and the duty of each citizen to register and use his privilege of voting thereby upholding and protecting the standards of the country. He believed that the younger generation should be more interested in politics and become members of citizens' clubs. Mr. Kurzon is at present the chairman of the finance board in Uxbridge, Mass.

Capt. Sarkis M. Zartarian provided a fine contrast by relating his experiences abroad when he attended the Rotary International Convention at Nice, France, last summer. He described the various countries he visited, giving them ways of living, government, recreation, customs, and religious and health institutions.

Town Clerk Earl A. Ryder who was present, was called upon to say a few words. Ardashes Der Ananian amused those present with his humorous selections. The Basmajian Sisters, Akandush and Elizabeth, and the Ananian children rendered selections on the violin and piano.

Refreshments were served during the social period that followed.

Sports Talk

By CHET WINN
The appointment of popular Johnny Thoren as pro at the Woodland Golf course is hailed by the many friends of John. He single-handed built up the Woburn Golf Club into the popular club that it is today.

John is well remembered as a member of the Arlington High hockey team of '26 and '27. He was a star wing on the team of that year. Art Lane, Sherm Forbes, Henry David, Norb Reardon, Bussey Manning and Andy Leveroni were some of the others.

John Lax, and Paul Rowe are members of the Olympics Hockey Club which are drawing such big crowds at the Boston Garden every Sunday afternoon. The crowds are getting bigger and bigger every Sunday. A combination of real action, good playing, and inexpensive price make for the large crowd.

Johnny Byrnes, wing on the Northeastern hockey team, is scoring in ever game, and where he doesn't make anywhere from three to five goals himself he makes at least two for his assists.

John was on the Arlington High team of a couple of years ago and was noted for packing the hardest shots.

Bob Mee of Arlington and Ray Chaisson of Cambridge are going great guns for Hebron Academy this year where they are the outstanding men for the Maine School. Both are remembered as stars of the Interscholastic League.

Incidentally Herb Merrill who has established quite a record for himself at New Hampshire is now the Freshman coach at that School and is very well liked.

Wrestling Match Is Feature Of Kiwanis' Educational Session

The peak of rivalry was witnessed at the educational meeting of the Arlington Kiwanis Club in Wyman's Tavern last Thursday when two teams, captained by Elmer Anderson and Arthur Mansfield, answered questions regarding Kiwanis and its work.

As excitement mounted, the contest turned to a physical test: with the two captains staging an impromptu wrestling match in the middle of the floor as team members for both sides, enjoying the friendly match to the full, howled and cheered their respective captain. When the smoke cleared away, Franklin Wyman, genial host at the English Tavern, hinted he was seriously considering the addition of a gymnasium mat and other equipment so that future gym work might be carried on more comfortably.

At the end of the mental and physical tests, Mansfield's team was judged winner by a score of 31 to 30. Winners received lollipops which were shared with the losers.

During the more serious question and answer period, it was brought out that Kiwanis was established January 21, 1915; the motto is "We Build"; the founders were Allen S. Browne and Joseph G. Prance; Kiwanis became International November 1, 1916; Hamilton, Ontario, Club made it international; the name Kiwanis International was adopted at Denver in 1924; an objective of Kiwanis International is to give primacy to spiritual and human values; President Chet Whitman's three objectives for 1938 are better Kiwanis education, higher per cent of attendance and increased membership; Arlington Kiwanis was organized June 13, 1925 with Somerville as the "Daddy" club; its first three presidents were A. Allen Kimball, Jack Loud and Brooks Saville; two clubs sponsored by the local club were Woburn in 1930 and Belmont in 1931; the local club has given the Boy Scouts $150 for a cabin at Camp Oak, has sent boys to Camp Sachem, has furnished the Kiwanis Room at the Symmes Hospital and has sent Girl Scouts to summer camps. These were only a few of the questions put up by F. P. Hawkes.

The Trefoll League met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Sherman Crockett with Miss Edith Emery as assistant hostess. The speaker of the evening was Mrs. W. N. Hartshorn of Cambridge who chose as her topic "Cathedral Windows," a very inspiring subject. Mrs. Hartshorn also told interestingly of her trip to Palestine. The evening closed with the serving of delightful refreshments by the hostesses.

Mrs. Louis Cote and Mrs. Ethel Merritt were hostesses for the bridge and whist party yesterday at Knights of Columbus Hall, North Cambridge in aid of Saint Vincent's Orphan Home.

Petition To Allow Coasting On Quincy St. Is Turned Down

After giving careful consideration to the petition signed by residents of Quincy st. and vicinity requesting that coasting be permitted on Quincy st., from Framer st. to the avenue, the board of selectmen voted against granting such permission at its meeting Monday evening. The board felt that because Quincy st. is very steep and because of the presence of two service stations at the foot of the street, coasters might take a great risk if this sport is allowed on Quincy st.

SILVA IS CANDIDATE

Frank P. Silva, of 39 Lafayette street has announced his candidacy for election as town meeting member next March. Mr. Silva has lived in Arlington for twelve years and has been active in state and national campaigns as well as in labor circles.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Mystic Valley Osteopathic Society held last week at Medford, Dr. John A. Robertson of Massachusetts Avenue, Arlington, was unanimously elected secretary-treasurer for the year 1938.

Three Accidents To Coasters Over Week-End In Arlington

Three coasters were slightly injured in accidents here over the week-end. Last Sunday afternoon, William Garten, 12, of 43 Millet street received injuries when while coasting on Hemlock street he struck a parked car. He was taken to the Symmes Hospital for treatment.

Two other accidents occurred early Saturday evening. Dorothy E. McDevitt, 10, of 20 Locke street while coasting from the park known as "The Foot of the Rocks," across Lowell street, crashed into an auto operated by Milford Dalrymple, of Lexington. She was taken to the Symmes hospital by Dalrymple and treated by Dr. Simonds. The other accident occurred when an auto operated by Harold B. Wood, of 21 Hutchinson road, collided with a sled ridden by Edmund Kerr, 13, of 205 Mystic street. The boy received injuries to his left leg and ankle. He was treated by Dr. Fraser of Somerville. This accident, which was reported to the police by Mr. Wood, occurred on Mystic street between Victoria road and Brookdale road.

Much Interest in Anderson Candidacy

The citizens of Arlington are showing considerable interest in the candidacy of Harold N. Anderson for a place on the Board of Selectmen.
Mr. Anderson, the present Finance Committee chairman, was born in Arlington and received his public school education in the schools of the town. After graduating from Northeastern University where he majored in Economics and Accounting, he passed the State C. P. A. examination and is now rated as a Certified Public Accountant, which in itself is well known to be no mean accomplishment. Following his certification as a Public Accountant, Mr. Anderson went into business on his own account and now directs the accounting activities for one of the largest successful textile manufacturing companies in the East.

In addition to this work which brings him into direct and intimate contact with an active commercial establishment, his experience includes tax and accounting work for many other mercantile companies, manufacturers and service corporations.

ADAPLPHANS TO MEET
The Adelphian's January program of prominent religious faiths and movements alive in today's world will be finished next Sunday evening at 7:30 at the Arlington First Baptist Church, when Dr. Feagan will discuss the Baptist Denomination and its beliefs as differentiated from other Protestant faiths.

Finance Board

mentations of that board. In less than ten minutes' time, the sum of $77,363 was voted. $15,113 was appropriated for materials and equipment to carry on WPA projects; $8,000 for other useful projects to provide employment for the poor; $43,000 for the removal of snow and ice; and $11,250 as the town's share of the cost of the new River street bridge now under construction. All appropriations were recommended by the finance committee.

The sum of $2,500 was requested for the Patriots' Day celebration. This, the finance committee opposed on the ground that it is not absolutely necessary. Selectman Harold M. Estabrook in offering a substitute motion, requesting that the amount be appropriated, explained that the selectmen at the request of the U. S. Constitution Sesquicentennial commission, had appointed a committee of forty members representing leading Arlington patriotic and civic organizations to plan for the proper observance of the sesquicentennial and that the committee had proposed the joint celebration on April 19. George Greims, past commander of the American Legion post 39 and chairman of the local celebration committee, outlined the plans for the celebration. These, he said, would include an oratorical contest, a pageant, a ball and a big parade in which senior and junior bands and bugle corps would take part. Floats would also be entered by organizations.

The finance committee's recommendation was upheld, however, and the appropriation was voted down. It was learned afterwards that an appropriation may be sought at the next annual town meeting for $1,500 to cover expenses of a large parade only on April 19.

The final article seeking an amendment to the Town By-laws brought out most of the discussion. The amendment read as follows:

"The (Finance) committee shall have the power and authority to consult with such departments, officers, employees, or committees as may have information concerning any matter under consideration, and it shall be the duty of all departments, officers, employees, or committees to furnish such information as they possess or can by diligence acquire that may be required by said committee. It shall also have the power to examine, in connection with any subject under investigation or consideration, all records, books, vouchers, papers and all other instruments in the custody or possession of any officer, employee or agent of the town as far as the same is permitted by law. All boards and officers shall submit to the committee, at the same time that they are submitted to the Town Accountant, copies of their estimates for the ensuing year in budget form."

Selectmen Object
Selectmen Estabrook, the first speaker on the proposed amendment, said the selectmen objected to the phase which referred to questioning employees. He said the selectmen had never refused the finance committee any information. Ralph Adams of the public works department was next to speak against it. Then followed Selectman George H. Lowe, Jr. who requested the finance committee to give its reason for inserting such an article in the warrant.

Chairman Anderson explained that not long ago the Finance committee had occasion to approach the Chief of Police on a small matter of a transfer of funds in the police department. The finance board was told that the Chief had orders not to give out information. Anderson added. The finance committee members then went to the selectmen and got the information immediately. He said this was not as critical of either the Chief or the Selectmen. He said this led the committee to believe it did not have the power that it thought it possessed and consequently the amendment was sought. He said the committee felt it should have the privilege of talking to the chief of police, or fire chief, or the superintendent of schools who know more about their business than anyone else, at any time. "We have no intention to go out and 'get' anybody," Mr. Anderson stated.

In answer, Selectman Lowe said, "This is about the answer we might expect. The Chief of Police quite well directed the sub-committee of the finance board to the Selectmen. It was only a matter of courtesy that a board elected to represent the people should be allowed to direct its own officers. In five years as selectman at no time have I seen a finance committee come to our board and be denied permission to contact any department head."

Archibald Lowery, although agreeing that in his three terms on the finance committee, he had never been refused a chance to approach department heads, urged that the finance committee's request be supported. Roger W. Homer, said that if the article was approved it would give the finance committee power to interfere with the conduct of departments. "No one in business would allow this," he said.

Davis Also Opposes
Selectman Ernest W. Davis in speaking against it, said that at no time had he seen a town board refuse the finance committee permission to interview any member of a department. In business, it is not expected that the office boy is to supply figures or other information, he said, and the same holds true in this case. "From a business standpoint alone, this should not pass," he warned.

Thomas G. Hennessy, the last speaker, said that what the town meeting wanted was detailed knowledge and the passage of the amendment would help materially to this end. The proposal was then voted down 76 to 66.

Two Public Works Dept. Employees Are Retired

The board of selectmen was advised on Monday evening of the retirement of two public works department employees under the compulsory retirement pension plan. James Sheehan, 74 years old, of 11 Wyman terrace who began his services October 26, 1912, and Michael Kelly, of 96 Mystic st., who has been in the employ of the public works department since 1897 were the two retired on pension. Mr. Kelly is 69 years old.

Attorney Fredo Added To List Of Auditors

His term on the School Committee is about to expire and he is a candidate for re-election.

Community Chest

tains and workers were asked at Wednesday night's meeting to make sure that everyone who can possibly give to the Arlington Chest contributes his part.

It was also emphasized that every cent collected in this appeal goes to a worthy Arlington organization, including the Welfare Council, the Visiting Nursing association, the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts, the Boys' Club, the St. Vincent de Paul Society, and the St. James Catholic Women's Guild and the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to children. The Community Chest Appeal thus eliminates separate drives for funds.

Several encouraging signs were reported at headquarters yesterday. One was that although the returns are incomplete, donations per capita are larger than last year. The police department has contributed one hundred per cent and holds top honors in per capita contributions. The fifty men in the department gave average contributions of $5.30 each. The school department is runner-up with 206 contributions averaging $4.65 each. The returns from this department are incomplete. Contributions in the business division have also been most encouraging.

Two more report meetings will be held, one next Monday evening and the other next Wednesday night when the 1938 appeal definitely winds up. The goal is $32,000. Do your part!

Looking Inside

Jan. 27, 1938. The matter of borrowing money for outlay items such as new streets, water extensions, etc., has repeatedly been mentioned during the last year or so. A member of the Board of Selectmen in at least two public addresses spoke for the idea although a few years previous he spoke against it.

The proposition now presented is to borrow—say for new streets—an amount equal to the assessments to the abutters. In other words borrow only what those living on the street pay back to the town as their share of the cost—usually about 50 per cent. This amount borrowed would then be paid off by the payments of the persons along the street and hence would cost the town nothing. That is absolutely true except that if continued would result at a time when each year we would borrow an amount and have to pay back a debt of an equal amount.

Suppose for easy figures we borrow $100,000 for new streets in 1938 and each year on indefinitely, the second year we would pay off $1,000 on 1938 debt and $4,000 interest. The fifth year we borrow $100,000, pay back $40,000 on debt and $13,600 interest. The eighth year we borrow $100,000 pay back $70,000 on debt and $19,600 on interest, and on the eleventh year—and every year thereafter we borrow $100,000, we pay off $100,000 and $22,000 on interest.

Suppose we build the same amount of streets without borrowing anything. The same amount comes in to the town on assessments but instead of being used to offset a similar amount borrowed it offsets and goes to reduce the tax rate caused by the cost of the new streets. In other words money received for assessments goes into the town treasury and the assessors use this "free cash" to reduce the amount to be otherwise raised by taxes. If we consider the amount obtained from street assessments as revolving fund to be used for future street work it does not make any difference whether we assume it is used to pay off street bonds or reduce the cost of present streets. The amount the town took in for this last year 1936 was $47,857.48 and is reduced the tax bill by just that amount.
